

I present the financial statements to you now
Income and expenses on pages five and six, see
Showing a surplus just over eleven thou
Why is that less than last year, you may ask me.

Hard to sell components which couldn't be shipped
You lot kept asking us eta of inventory
We were not being cagey or tight-lipped
Even Steve was saying: Stop asking me!

There was a cost to move our system to Xero
And the membership weekend, we agree
Was a success and will help our clubs grow
Any other cost explanations, ask me.

Our champ meeting suffered a small loss
Fewer shooters paying the entry fee
We tried our best to keep down the costs
And before spending money, Ross had to first ask me.

In the balance sheet the assets have increased
There's 97k of prepayments, how can that be
That's for projectiles less a discount we received
A pretty good deal, if you ask me

I've been your Treasurer nine years, roundabouts but finally, I'm about to be set free
I've completed my last financial accounts
So for future finance questions - don't ask me.

I've completed my last profit and loss report
Balanced my last balance sheet, you see
Answered auditor questions, quite well he thought
So, any adjustments needed – don't ask me

I've reconciled the bank account many a time
Authorised payments and Helen's salary
Presented to AGMs reports that rhyme
But if you want more of those, don't ask me

So next time a term deposit needs replacing
Or there's an urgent online payment demand
An overdue account which needs chasing
Don't ask me, from now on, you call Johan.

Coby Snowden
January 2025